Creative designer with experience in developing visual concepts and creating meaningful design solutions. Strong in communication, problem-solving, attention to detail, and adapting ideas based on feedback. Passionate about continuous learning and delivering designs that effectively connect with audiences.

ABOUT ME

I specialize in both print and digital media, with expertise in managing and creating designs in CMYK and RGB color modes to ensure accurate color palette usage for both screen and print production. My portfolio features a diverse range of optimized designs across various platforms, including print, social media, marketplaces, and websites. Each project is carefully designed with the necessary bleed and safe areas (customizable based on size requirements) to guarantee flawless production and a polished final product.

Over the years, I've had the privilege of working with renowned brands such as Formica, Cengage, MCIS Life, as well as organizations including independent and semi-government owned entities. These experiences have not only boosted my confidence but also motivated me to continually strive for greater success in my work. I believe design should be both visually compelling and functional, with a user-centered approach. I focus on creating designs that meet client expectations while offering my insights, opinions, and expertise to foster collaboration and enhance the final result.

I prioritize clear communication and collaboration with clients, ensuring that their vision is realized while maintaining creative flexibility and a smooth workflow. I welcome constructive criticism and feedback, always ready to adjust the design to fully align with the client's vision. Ultimately, my goal is simple: to ensure that my clients achieve exactly what they envision and are completely satisfied with the final outcome. As I continue to grow as a designer, I remain motivated to gain more experience and refine my skills, constantly striving to provide even more value through my services.

The Association of Obstructive Sleep Apnea Risk and Severity of Psoriasis Vulgaris in Adults

Abstract

Introduction: Psoriasis and obstructive sleep apnea (OSA) are both associated with chronic inflammation and are associated with cardiovascular risk. This study aimed to investigate the association between severity of psoriasis vulgaris and OSA risk in adults seeking care in tertiary healthcare setting.

Methods and Results: This is a cross-sectional study carried out from October 2020 until April 2021 at the Dermatology Clinic of Hospital Tengku Anson (HTA) on adults with a clinical diagnosis of psoriasis vulgaris. Based on the Psoriasis Severity and Area Index (PSASI), patients were categorized into 2 categories: Mild (PSASI ≤ 10) versus moderate to severe (PSASI > 10) at the time of assessment. All study patients were evaluated for OSA using two validated questionnaires: the STOP-Bang and Epworth Sleepiness Scale (ESS).

Results: A total of 227 study participants who fulfilled the inclusion and exclusion criteria were recruited.

Figure 1: Overall characteristics of the study participants (n=227) according to the severity of psoriasis, mild psoriasis (n=100) and moderate to severe psoriasis (n=127).
